INTERNATIONAL MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT between Faculty of Agronomy
of the University of Buenos Aires, Argentina, and the College of Agriculture
Iowa State University of Science and Technology
Ames, Iowa, U.S.A.

This memorandum of agreement (MOA) between the University of Buenos Aires, Argentina, and Iowa State University, U.S.A., provides for a collaborative program of research, training, curriculum, institutional development, information, dissemination, and exchange of faculty, students, and staff. The MOA will continue for 5 years and may be extended for additional five-year periods by mutual agreement. It may be terminated by either upon one-year written notification to the other institution.

The following activities are appropriate for collaborative efforts. Other academic and research activities may be added when developed and approved by the two institutions.

The Iowa State University College of Agriculture and the Faculty of Agronomy of the University of Buenos Aires, agree to facilitate, when financially feasible, long-term and short-term exchanges of faculty, students, and staff, staff education and training, faculty improvement leaves, visiting professorships, research collaboration, and other activities.

The affiliation may involve programs relating to research and collaborative development, teaching, and/or outreach. It may involve any discipline to the extent that individuals are able to locate suitable counterparts at the other institution.

Office space, academic and research facilities provided to the visiting members may vary among departments. Such arrangements will be made by the visiting member and his/her counterpart at the receiving institution.

Prior to finalizing individual visits, representatives of both institutions shall secure approvals from respective department heads, deans, and administrative officers.

Students may be admitted to programs with the term(s) of attendance, academic eligibility, and course of study determined individually for each student by the two institutions.

Both Universities agree to explore the feasibility of a joint venture directed at developing a Professional Master’s Program in Agronomy of common interest.

For conditions of the affiliation not covered by this MOA or for problems which arise while the exchange agreement is in effect, both parties agree to refrain from unilateral action and to consult and negotiate mutually agreeable decisions.
